GIVE YOUR PEOPLE MORE THAN INSPIRATION...

I have a very personal and profound message to share:
The key to achieving leadership, success and satisfaction lies in clarity mapping.
And, I'll prove it!

The world is constantly in a state of change.
Will your people adapt to change?
Will they know how?

HI I'M LUCY,

I'm a communications expert turned speaker,
facilitator and clarity mapping fanatic.

Thanks to discovering the power of self-activation with clarity mapping I've been able to become highly productive and adaptable to change.

And in order to share this breakthrough with the world I created the ShineOn™ Method.

I wanted a practical solution that supports anyone interested to discover, clarify and master getting the most out of life and becoming their best selves.

My mission is to introduce clarity mapping to as many people as possible. I do that through working with companies, a variety of groups, schools as well as individuals.

I AM NOT JUST YOUR SPEAKER

I consider myself your partner.

That's why everything I do is deeply personal and customized to the objectives of your event. The topics of Adaptability, Change, Agility, Resilience, Activation and Leadership are all possible.

So, if you're looking for someone remarkable on the topic of self-activation and change, you just found her.

CLARITY MAPPING WITH SHINEON™

The simple 3 step approach to clarifying anything fast.

A powerful tool offering a structure to follow to have conversations that are both practical and productive. The results generate an empowering understanding and clarity around what success and satisfaction looks like.

mindset

Approaching this work requires a blank slate where anything is possible. When we come together with the understanding that we are figuring it out and any and all ideas are welcome. Magic happens. Culture shifts.

clarity

Inquiry is the purest form of truth seeking. In order to really see what will work we need to be asking questions. Investigating and exploring what comes up is empowering and drives the energy needed to take action.

Doing the things that need to be done to achieve the objective takes on a whole other level of energy when your mindset and clarity are aligned. Anything becomes possible and people can't help but get excited to do more!
